

Essay #1

Today I'm going to tell you about how the government of Athens compares to the government of the United States. First, both governments are democracies which means that people vote. Also, both governments have people that decide on the laws. In Athens those people are called the council of 500 and in the United States those people are called congressman. There are also several differences between the two types of governments. First, in the US we have a representative democracy which means that people vote on representatives who create the laws. I hope you learned some of the differences between the US and Athens government. The End!!!! :-)

Essay #2

The governments of Athens and the United States have many similarities yet they also have several differences. For instance, one similarity is that both have a democracy. They also both have mountains. A difference is that in the United States men and women are aloud to vote, but in Athens only men that owned property are aloud to vote. Another difference is that the US has a representative democracy. Those are the similarities and differences between Athens and the US

Essay #3

Similarities between US and Athens are that US and Athens have a democracy. They both allow men to vote. One difference is that US has a representative democracy and Athens has a direct democracy. In Athens only men that owned property are allowed to vote. In the US any citizen over the age of 18 can vote. Those are the similarities and differences between Athens and the US.